

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A media delivery system, a media delivery method, a record media delivery program and a computer readable record medium are disclosed wherein respective media post units (12) read out record information recorded in transmission media (22), a relevant addressee is inputted in transmission media (22), and record information and delivery end information of transmission media (22) are transmitted through a communication network 10 (18). In contrast, in a delivery media recording section (14), record information and relevant addressee information of transmission media (22) is received via a communication network (20), record information is recorded on received media (24) and relevant addressee information is added to received media (24) to be delivered to the relevant addressee.